

Workshop: Starting Up a Community Reuse and Resource Centre “Making Ourselves Unstoppable: Overcoming the Challenges”

10:00am – 4:00pm 13th July 2011 at Bricks and Bread, Aldershot

This one day workshop is for anyone starting up a Community Reuse and Resource Centre. The day is designed to give you the chance to work through the issues you face in setting up your social enterprise with people who've done it before and to link into the support you need to make it happen.

The morning will start with a tour of Bricks and Bread <http://www.bricksandbread.com/> and an exploration of the challenges in reuse, repair, remanufacture and retraining. The afternoon will have advice sessions on the issues you face such as making reuse pay its way, choosing the right business structure, getting the logistics right and partnering with local authorities.

There will be plenty of space to work out your next steps and make sure you are linked in to the support available.

Book your place now at <http://communityreuseshop.eventbrite.com>

Cost: £5 to cover lunch and tea & coffee, please pay at the door.

Organised by Local United <http://www.localunited.net/> and Bioregional <http://www.bioregional.com/>. Speakers include Kelvin Hughes from the Newbury Community Resource Centre and Stephen Edwards from Brixton Reuse Centre.
